Chkalovsk was founded in the XII century by the son of Yuri Dolgoruky, Prince Vasily, and was called Vasileva Sloboda. People there were engaged in various crafts, and especially pottery was developed. The village of Vasilevo was renamed to Chkalovsk only in August 1937, a record flight to the United States through the North Pole, which performed the famous fellow countryman V.P. Chkalov.

DAY 2 04.05.2024, Saturday Yuryevets, Kineshma

Yuryevets

Date:
04.05(SAT)

Kineshma

Date:
04.05(SAT)

Kineshma is a city (since 1777) in the Ivanovo region of Russia. In 2010, the city was included into the list of historical settlements of federal significance. Initially, Kineshma was a small settlement, the inhabitants of which were engaged in fishing for themselves and the sovereign; then it grew and formed a posad. In one of its parts, the Yamskaya Sloboda (later Zarechye or Turuntaevka), coachmen lived, whose lineage came from Turuntai Pronsky and belonged to the armored boyars class. At the beginning of the 20th century, traces of an earthen rampart and a dry moat remained intact. Kineshma is known for its factory buildings of the 19th century, many of which are still working and give a special charm to city landscapes.
